A Tip from Our Coaches:

What is Sportsmanship?

- playing fair
- following the rules of the game
- respecting the judgment of referee
- treating opponents with respect

Some people define good sportsmanship as the "golden rule" of sports - in other words treating the people you play with and against as you'd like to be treated yourself. You demonstrate good sportsmanship when you show respect to yourself, your teammates, your opponents, the coaches on both sides and the referees.

Good sportsmanship includes both small gestures and heroic efforts. It starts with something as simple as shaking hands with opponents before a game, and includes acknowledging good plays made by others and accepting bad calls gracefully.

However, sportsmanship isn't just reserved for the people on the field. Fans and parents also need to be aware of how they behave during competition. Sportsmanship is a style and an attitude, and it can have a positive influence on everyone around you.
