Coaching Philosophy

I will stress skill development along with a high level of fitness. I will focus on the importance of team play and team success. Skills and conditioning are the foundation for success. My players will learn the importance of positional play and will be taught positional responsibilities in all areas of the rink.

On-ice and off-ice practices will be high tempo. On-ice practices will be used for maximum skill development and off-ice practices will be geared towards systems and maximum fitness. My coaching staff will also utilize the “In the Play” video system to review game footage and further educate the players on all aspects of the game.
