

Parent Team Pages Guide

Contents

- Team Pages 2
- Team Calendars..... 2
- Appendix 4
 - Adding a team calendar to a calendar application 4
 - Google Mail - as of 8/24/2011 4
 - Outlook 2007 5
 - Outlook 2010 6
 - Windows LiveHotMail..... 7
 - Apple iCal 3.0 8

Team Pages

Every MVYFA team has a team web page on our web site. This provides a great place for your coach to communicate with the players and families of the team.

All the team web pages can be found under “Teams”/Grade.

Teams
3rd Grade
4th Grade
5th Grade
6th Grade
7th Grade
8th Grade
Limited Weight

Select the appropriate grade and the team pages for that grade will appear.

▼ Teams
4th Grade
Jets
Mustangs
Patriots
Vikings

Just select the team whose page you want to see.

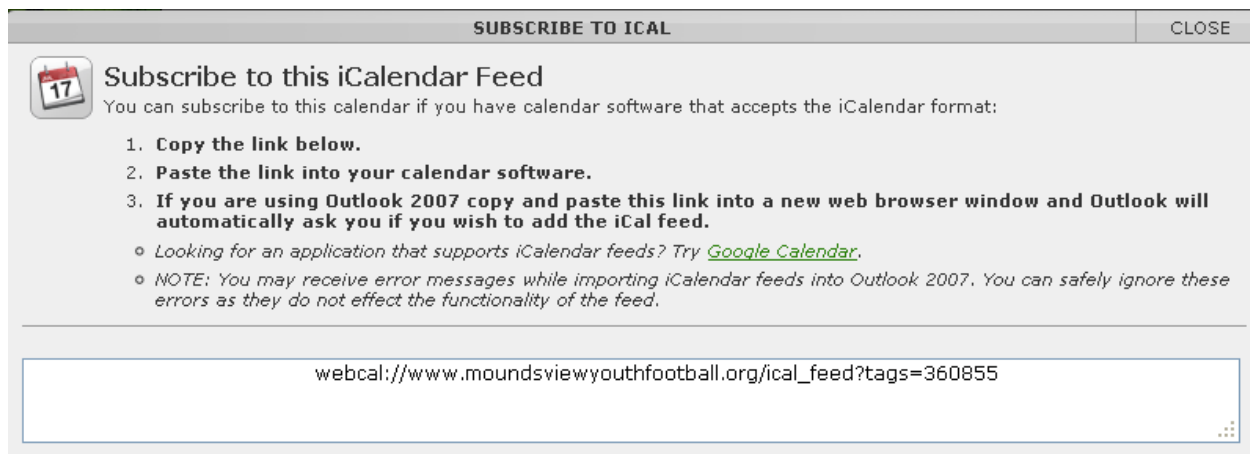

Team Calendars

Each team page has a team calendar. All games and practices should be listed here. You can select a particular event to view the details or select the View All option to see a monthly calendar view (from this page a monthly list or day view is also available).

Mustangs Calendar
Tue 8/23	Wed 8/24	Thu 8/25	Fri 8/26	Sat 8/27
Mustang Practice 6:00pm	Youth Football Practice 6:45pm	Mustang Practice 6:00pm	no events	no events
View All  RSS  iCal

To get this team calendar into your own laptop/desktop/smart phone calendar application without manually copying them and to get updates automatically make use of the iCal (aka webcal) feature.

Select the iCal option  and a window will pop up with an iCal link for that calendar along with some instructions how to use it.

SUBSCRIBE TO ICAL CLOSE

 Subscribe to this iCalendar Feed

You can subscribe to this calendar if you have calendar software that accepts the iCalendar format:

1. Copy the link below.
2. Paste the link into your calendar software.
3. If you are using Outlook 2007 copy and paste this link into a new web browser window and Outlook will automatically ask you if you wish to add the iCal feed.

- Looking for an application that supports iCalendar feeds? Try Google Calendar.
- NOTE: You may receive error messages while importing iCalendar feeds into Outlook 2007. You can safely ignore these errors as they do not effect the functionality of the feed.

`webcal://www.moundsviweyouthfootball.org/ical_feed?tags=360855`

Just take the provided webcal URL to attach this calendar to your calendaring application such as Outlook, Windows Live Mail, OS X iCal, Google Calendar, etc. (NOTE: Don't use the example URL in the above image). To get specifics on adding an iCal feed to your particular application, just do an internet search on "iCal" or "webcal" and your application name. Example: "iCal Outlook 2007". Most applications will allow you to configure how often you want it to sync the calendar. Daily, at minimum, is recommended.

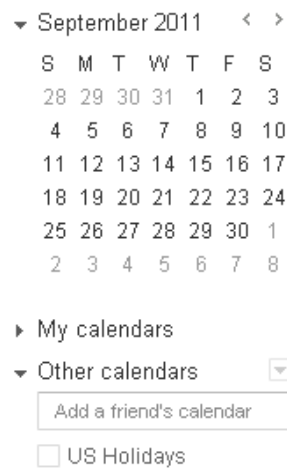

Make sure that when you add the URL to your calendar application, that you remove any leading white space prior to the URL. Every URL will start with webcal:// so any white space in front of that needs to be removed.

Appendix

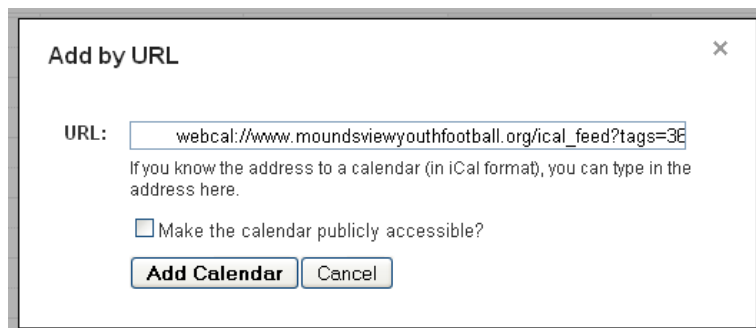

Adding a team calendar to a calendar application

Google Mail - as of 8/24/2011

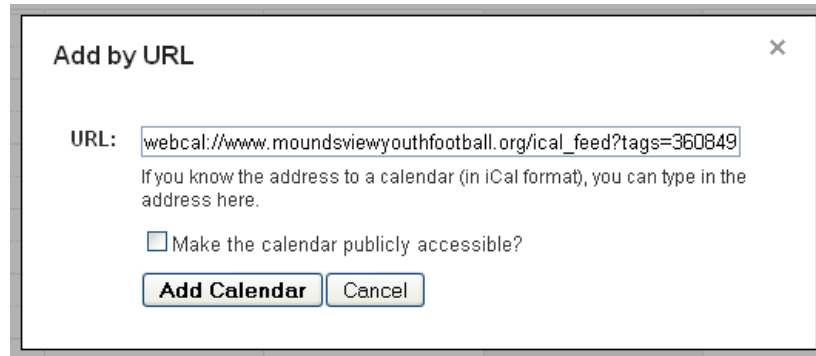

1. Log into Google and go to your calendar
2. Find the “Other calendars” heading in the left panel and make sure it is expanded (triangle on left is facing down – click on it to toggle).

3. Select the down facing triangle to the right of “Other calendars” and from the pop up choose “Add by URL”. Enter the team calendar URL

And delete any leading whitespace in front of the URL.

The calendar should now show up under “Other calendars”.

Outlook 2007

An Internet Calendar Subscription is a calendar that you download and view in Outlook. However, unlike a Calendar Snapshot, Internet Calendar Subscriptions are updated automatically.

These calendars can be found on Web sites where people host calendars. On such a Web site, you can click a link to download and subscribe to the calendar, or someone can send you a link to the Internet Calendar Subscription in an e-mail message. This link is an Internet Web address that begins with webcal://, instead of http://, and ends with a file name that has the .ics file extension.

1. Click the link for the Internet Calendar Subscription.

You might be prompted to acknowledge that you are opening a hyperlink. You should click Yes only if you know and trust the validity of the linked calendar.

2. At the prompt, Add this Internet Calendar to Outlook and subscribe to updates, click Yes.

The Internet Calendar opens in side-by-side view in the Outlook Calendar and is added to the Navigation Pane in Calendar view under Other Calendars. The calendar will check periodically for any updates made by the calendar publisher.

Notes

- You can identify an Internet Calendar Subscription in the Navigation Pane by the  icon.
- To remove an Internet Calendar Subscription from side-by-side view, clear the check mark for the calendar in the Navigation Pane.
- To overlay multiple calendars, use the arrow buttons on the calendar tabs.
- You can drag items from the Internet Calendar Subscription to other calendars in side-by-side view.
- To remove the Internet Calendar Subscription from the Navigation Pane, right-click the calendar name, and then click Delete calendar name.
- Internet Calendar Subscriptions can be added, changed, or removed from the Account Settings dialog box. On the Tools menu, click Account Settings, and then click the Internet Calendars tab.

Outlook 2010

An Internet Calendar Subscription is a calendar that you download and view in Outlook. However, unlike a Calendar Snapshot, Internet Calendar Subscriptions are updated automatically.

These calendars can be found on Web sites where people host calendars. On such a Web site, you can click a link to download and subscribe to the calendar, or someone can send you a link to the Internet Calendar Subscription in an e-mail message. This link is an Internet Web address that begins with webcal://, instead of http://, and ends with a file name that has the .ics file extension.

1. Click the link for the Internet Calendar Subscription.

You might be prompted to acknowledge that you are opening a hyperlink. You should click Yes only if you know and trust the validity of the linked calendar.

2. At the prompt, Add this Internet Calendar to Outlook and subscribe to updates, click Yes.

The Internet Calendar opens in side-by-side view in the Outlook Calendar and is added to the Navigation Pane in Calendar view under Other Calendars. The calendar will check periodically for any updates made by the calendar publisher.

NOTES

- To remove an Internet Calendar Subscription from side-by-side view, clear the check mark for the calendar in the Navigation Pane.
- To overlay multiple calendars, use the arrow buttons on the calendar tabs.
- You can drag items from the Internet Calendar Subscription to other calendars in side-by-side view.

- To remove the Internet Calendar Subscription from the Navigation Pane, right-click the calendar name, and then click Delete *calendar name.
- Internet Calendar Subscriptions can be added, changed, or removed from the Account Settings dialog box. On the Tools menu, click Account Settings, and then click the Internet Calendars tab.

Windows LiveHotMail

1. Locate the iCal that you want to subscribe to.

Note

You'll need to copy or make a note of the web address of the iCal. iCal web addresses typically start with `webcal://` or `http://`, and end with `.ics`. You can also use Calendar to subscribe to iCals whose web addresses begin with `https://` or `webcals://`.

2. Go to your calendar. You might need to sign in with your Windows Live ID.
3. On the toolbar, click Subscribe.
4. Select Subscribe to a public calendar, and then, in the Calendar URL box, type or paste the web address of the iCal that you want to subscribe to.
5. In the Calendar name box, type a name for the calendar.
6. Next to Color, select a color for the calendar.
7. In the Charm list, click the icon you want to associate with events for this calendar.

Note

You don't have to select a charm. If you do, that charm appears on each day in your calendar when an event for the calendar you've subscribed to occurs.

8. Click Subscribe to calendar, and then click Done.

Apple iCal 3.0

If you know the URL of an iCal calendar that someone has published on the Internet, you can add that calendar to your Calendars list by subscribing to it. You can also subscribe by clicking links to published iCal calendars on the Internet or in emails you may have received.

To subscribe to a calendar at a specific URL:

1

Choose Calendar > Subscribe.

2

Enter the URL for the calendar you want to subscribe to, and then click Subscribe.

3

If you want iCal to update your copy of this calendar when changes to it are published on the Internet, choose the update frequency from the “Auto-refresh” pop-up menu.

4

If you want to remember information associated with this calendar, you can type it in the Description field.

5

If you want to receive any to-do items or attachments, or hear any alarms associated with the calendar, deselect the appropriate Remove checkboxes.

6

If you want iCal to update your copy of this calendar when changes to it are published on the Internet, choose the update frequency from the “Auto-refresh” pop-up menu.

7

Click OK.

The calendar you’ve subscribed to appears in your Calendars list under the heading “Subscribed.” You can rename the calendar by double-clicking the name, but you can’t make any other changes to it.

To subscribe to a calendar from a link on the Internet or in an email, click the link. For example, you can subscribe to any of the holiday, sports, or other general calendars in the Calendar Library on the iCal website. To subscribe to any of these calendars, choose Calendar > Find Shared Calendars, or visit www.apple.com/ical/library.