Mission Statement

Our mission at Competitive Edge is to provide a strong foundation for hockey player's that utilizes an intense and continuous training program to teach basic skills and solid technique. We believe a positive, fun and competitive atmosphere, which includes mentoring by professional staff, enhances the training experience. In merging the training and the atmosphere into one encounter, Competitive Edge believes players will advance to a more skilled level of play.

Bryan DeWees (Weezy)

Bryan DeWees, better known as "WEEZY", has been a skating instructor for over 10 years. Bryan is the Director of Player Development for Weezy's Competitive Edge Skating. He brings a new EDGE when developing hockey programs in Minnesota. Players train with Weezy because of his unique teaching style, personal rapport, inventive drills and skating background. He combines his knowledge and skills to help players move to a more advanced level of play. He knows the game of hockey and the importance of skating technique. His belief is each hockey player should have a strong foundation which is achieved through teaching basic skills and solid technique through on-ice and off-ice training. Bryan has trained players in the NHL, AHL, NCAA Division I, NCAA Division III, USHL, NAHL and High School. He finds it rewarding to watch his players develop in all areas of their game.

TJ Guidarelli

TJ is the Head Stickhandling and Shooting Instructor for Weezy's Competitive Edge Skating. TJ's experience on the ice ranges from playing Division 1 hockey at Mankato State, professional hockey in the US and over 10 years professional hockey in Europe. During his off season he enjoys coming back to Minnesota to train young hockey players. TJ has worked with well known hockey training companies, University Camps and Elite scouting camp. TJ brings his specialty of stick handling and shooting to our programs and private lessons. Competitive Edge is excited to announce that TJ will be a Head Instructor with Competitive Edge.
