

Announcing “Rink Rat Hockey” – Optional ice time to improve

As our season comes nearer to an end and the outdoor ice has been spotty to say the least. I am happy to say I've been able to get some indoor ice for the kids. I understand that the “FREE” ice typically falls on days when practices or games have already been scheduled. Please view this as an optional opportunity for the kids to be “Rink Rats.” The hour will be somewhat unstructured and hopefully can provide for development of any skill from shooting to skating.

The same rules will apply in relation to who accesses the ice. Only certified coaches and players will be able to use the ice sheet. Equipment is mandatory as would be as a regular ice touch. As I am offered ice times which don't conflict with a game/practice, I will accept for our kids (obviously trying to avoid evening times). I would like to stress again this is optional “FREE” ice. Make a choice that fits your family.

I have secured the following ice for our programs:
