TODD HIGGINS

Todd Higgins is among the finest athletes to come out of Port Washington. PYA exposed Todd to sports at an early age and helped jump-start an exceptional athletic career, which culminated in his contributions as a member of the 1992 and 1994 Princeton University NCAA national championship lacrosse teams.

Todd participated in PYA during the 1980's, first in baseball and later in lacrosse. At Weber Junior High School and Paul D. Schreiber High School, Todd excelled in football, basketball and lacrosse (3 years on the varsity in each sport), and also found time to get back down to Lions Field and referee youth football games, too. At Schreiber, Todd was a two-time All County football player, All-League in basketball, and a two-time All-American lacrosse player. He helped lead the Vikings to the 1990 Nassau County Championship, where he was named the game's Most Valuable Player. During high school, Todd was also a two-time member of the Long Island Empire State Lacrosse team.

After graduating from Schreiber, Todd attended Princeton University, where he was a four year starter on the men's lacrosse team and a member of two national championship teams. Todd earned First Team All-Ivy and First Team All-American honors in 1994 and 1995. He was captain of the team in 1995 and received the William Winston Roper Trophy, which is awarded annually to the "Outstanding Princeton Athlete of High Scholastic Rank". He also was awarded the 1995 Higginbotham Trophy for the most outstanding Princeton Lacrosse player.

In addition to playing lacrosse at Princeton, Todd represented the United States on the Under 19 U.S. Lacrosse team, where he helped lead the U.S. to a gold medal in 1992. He was awarded the World Games' Most Valuable Player Award. Todd has also appeared in Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd and has been inducted into the Paul D. Schreiber Hall of Fame.

After his collegiate playing days ended, Todd was a member of the New York Athletic Club lacrosse team, and the North Hempstead Lacrosse Club.

Todd currently resides in Manhasset with his wife Margaret, five-year old twins Catherine and Charles, and three-year old Thomas. He is an equity trader for Quad Capital Management.
