MEDIA GUIDELINES & TOURNAMENT INFORMATION

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Tournament Availability: U.S. Women's National Team players and staff will be available for 30 minutes following games and practices during the 2012-13 season. On game days, interviews must be completed immediately following the pre-game skate. Following games, players and coaches will be made available no later than 10 minutes after the conclusion of the game.

IIHF Tournament Media Protocol

- All accredited media shall have free access to cover all team practices, game-day skates and games.
- Locker rooms are closed to all media.
- All player interviews will be conducted in a designated mixed zone area within the arena. Requests for players should be directed to the appropriate media/public relations staff assigned to each team. The interviews will then take place in the mixed zone area.
- Players will be made available in the mixed zone no later than 10 minutes after the conclusion of the game, with a general media access period of 30 minutes.
- Following the conclusion of Team USA games and after practices, Head Coach Katey Stone will be made available to the media.
- All media requests for the U.S. Women's National Team should be directed to Rob Koch.
- The official television partners of the event will be given priority for all interviews.

Additional Availability: Media wishing to schedule an interview outside of competitions should contact Rob Koch.

Information: Up-to-date statistics, news, features and other various media resources are available at USAHockey.com. USA Hockey information and updates can also be found on Facebook (Facebook.com/USAHockey) and Twitter (@usahockey).

IIHF TOURNAMENT FORMAT

Three-Point System for Preliminary Round

- Three points shall be awarded for the winning team at the conclusion of regulation.
- One point will be awarded to both teams at the conclusion of regulation if the game is tied.
- An additional point shall be awarded to the team winning the game in either the overtime period or the Game-Winning Shots procedure.

Overtime Procedures

- If a preliminary-round game is tied after three periods, a five-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If a playoff game is tied after three periods, a 10-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime period shall be played immediately after an intermission of three minutes. The teams will defend the same goals as in the third period.
- If the gold-medal game is tied after three periods, a 20-minute four-on-four sudden-death overtime will start immediately after a 15-minute intermission during which time the ice will be cleaned. The teams will change ends.
- If no goal is scored in the overtime period of any game, the Game-Winning Shots procedure will apply.

Game-Winning Shots Procedure

Shots will be taken at both ends of the ice surface. Three players from each team will take shots alternately until a decisive goal is scored. If the score is still tied after three shots by each team, the procedure will continue with a tiebreak sudden-death shootout by one player from each team. The teams may use the same player or new players for each shot in the tiebreak shootout, until the outcome is decided.

PROUD SPONSOR OF USA HOCKEY

REAGAN CAREY*GENERAL MANAGER

Reagan Carey became USA Hockey's director of women's hockey in August 2010. Her primary focus is on the management of the U.S. Women's National Team Program, including elite development efforts of both players and coaches.

In Carey's first year as general manager, Team USA captured gold medals at both the International Ice Hockey Federation Under-18 Women's World Championship and the IIHF Women's World Championship.

For the two years prior to joining USA Hockey, Carey was the director of fan development and youth marketing for Atlanta Spirit, LLC, the parent company of the National Hockey League's Atlanta Thrashers and the National Basketball Association's Atlanta Hawks. She led a new branch of marketing that integrated a youth focus throughout all areas of the teams' sales, marketing, programming, sponsorship, sports development and promotional efforts. Carey also helped the Thrashers become the first NHL team to adopt and promote USA Hockey's American Development Model.

Carey worked for the Atlanta Thrashers under both Atlanta Spirit and AOL Time Warner's Turner Sports, the former parent company of the Thrashers, for nine years. A trainee for the Thrashers' marketing department during the 2001-02 season, Carey joined the staff full-time for the 2002-03 season as marketing and special projects assistant, before being named the marketing coordinator in September 2003.

Carey assumed the role of manager of hockey development for the Thrashers the following season in August 2004. By implementing several programs, she developed and expanded the local hockey community and established a portion of the Thrashers' website that became the "information hub of Atlanta hockey."

In January 2006, she was promoted to senior manager of fan development, before being promoted again in September 2007 to director of fan development. In that role, she created and produced the first-ever Junior NHL All-Star Hockey Tournament, lauded by the NHL and proven to be a huge success.

Carey is on the American Women's Hockey Coaches Association Board of Governors as an "Allied Representative" and serves as an advisor on the Board of Directors for the Canadian Women's Hockey League.

A 2001 graduate of Colby College with a bachelor's degree in sociology, Carey played four years of collegiate hockey, serving as team captain both her junior and senior years. She simultaneously played collegiate volleyball for the Mules, captaining the team from 1999-2000. She was the recipient of the 2010 Colby College Carl E. Nelson Sports Achievement Award.

KATEY STONE*HEAD COACH

Katey Stone, head women's ice hockey coach at Harvard University, will lead the U.S. Women's National Team Program through the 2014 Olympic Winter Games after having been involved with the U.S. Women's National Team Program extensively since 2006.

Stone has served as head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team on seven occasions, including two International Ice Hockey Federation Women's World Championships (gold-2011; silver-2012), four Four Nations Cups (1st-2008, 2011, 2012; 2nd-2010) and one IIHF 2011 Twelve Nations Invitational Tournament Series.

In 2012, Stone guided Team USA to a silver medal at the 2012 IIHF Women's World Championship in Burlington, Vt., and helped the team capture the 2012 Four Nations Cup in Vantaa and Kerava, Finland.

Stone also led the team to its third-straight gold medal at the 2011 International Ice Hockey Federation Women's World Championship in Zurich, Switzerland. Under her leadership, the team also won the 2011 Four Nations Cup in Nykoping, Sweden as well as the inaugural championship at the 2011 IIHF Twelve Nations Invitational Tournament Series in Vierumaki, Finland where Team USA went undefeated in six games.

In 2010, Stone led the U.S. to a second-place finish at the Four Nations Cup in St. Johns, N.L. Stone also served as the head coach of the U.S. Women's National Team at the 2008 Women's Four Nations Cup. There, Team USA captured the tournament title for the first time since 2003.

In addition, Stone led the U.S. to the gold medal at the first-ever IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship in January 2008, and also coached the U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team at the 2007 Under-18 Series and the U.S. Women's Under-22 Select Team at the 2006 Under-22 Series.

Along with her accomplishments on the international stage, Stone is the all-time wins leader in women's college hockey and in her 19th season behind the Harvard bench in 2012-13. Through 2011-12, Stone had led the Crimson to a 378-164-32 (.726) record, which included the 1999 American Women's Collegiate Hockey Alliance national championship, three straight appearances in the NCAA championship game (2003, 2004, 2005), eight NCAA tournament appearances in the event's 12-year history, six ECAC Hockey regular-season titles, five ECAC Hockey tournament championships, five Ivy League titles and 10 Beanpot championships.

In addition to the team's success under Stone, she has molded some of the best individual talent in the sport of women's ice hockey. In 18 years at Harvard, Stone has coached nine Olympians and six Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award winners, presented annually to the top player in NCAA Division I women's ice hockey. Before coaching at Harvard, Stone served as assistant athletic director and coach at Tabor Academy (Mass.) and had coaching stints at Northfield Mount Hermon (Mass.) and Phillips Exeter Academy (N.H.).

Stone graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 1989 with a degree in physical education. She was a captain and four-year letter winner in both hockey and lacrosse and helped the Wildcats hockey team win ECAC championships in 1986 and 1987, and the lacrosse team capture an NCAA title in 1985. She earned All-ECAC honors in hockey and was a two-time All-America selection in lacrosse.

BOBBY JAY*ASSISTANT COACH

Bobby Jay is serving his sixth stint as assistant coach for the U.S. Women's National Team after having participated as an assistant coach at the 2012 IIHF Women's World Championships, the Four Nations Cup in 2011 (Nykoping, Sweden) and 2012 (Vantaa/Kerava, Finland). He also served at the Women's National Festival in Blaine, Minn., in 2011 and 2012.

Prior to joining Team USA, Jay served as an assistant coach of Harvard University's men's ice hockey team, a position he held from 2004-06 and again from 2009-11. There, Jay focused on penalty kill personnel and systems, prepared pregame scouting reports and assisted in recruiting and the admissions process of prospective student-athletes.

From 1999-2001, Jay was an assistant coach with the Tampa Bay Lightning's International Hockey League affiliate, the Detroit Vipers. Jay continued his coaching career with the Los Angeles Kings' American Hockey League affiliate, the Manchester Monarchs, where he focused primarily on developing the team's defensive corps.

In 2003-04, Jay served as general manager of the AHL's San Antonio Rampage, the primary affiliate of the Florida Panthers, before joining Harvard.

Jay graduated from Merrimack College in 1988 with a bachelor's degree in business management. Jay played professional hockey for 10 seasons as a defenseman in the IHL, AHL and NHL, including a year in Sweden and a brief stint with the Los Angeles Kings during the 1993-94 season.

Currently, Jay is the Hockey Director for The Edge Sports Center (Bedford, Mass.) and the East Coast Wizards hockey club. Jay is in charge of the club's overall skill development and manages the Wizards boys' program and also teaches skills programs and camps at The Edge Sports Center.

HILARY WITT*ASSISTANT COACH

Hilary Witt (Canton, Mass.), who was hired by USA Hockey in July 2012 to serve as Coordinator of Player Development and Women's National Team Scout, is a former member of the U.S. Women's National Team (2001) and the all-time winningest women's ice hockey coach at Yale University.

Witt came to USA Hockey from Northeastern University, where she served as assistant coach of the Huskies NCAA Division I women's ice hockey team the past two seasons. Prior to that, Witt spent nine campaigns at Yale University (2001-2010), including eight as the head coach of the women's ice hockey team. At Yale she compiled a 96-126-24 record and was named the 2002-03 ECAC Women's Hockey Coach of the Year in her first season as head coach.

As a player at Northeastern (1996-2000), Witt was a two-time All-ECAC selection and a three-time candidate for the Patty Kazmaier Award. The Huskies' all-time leading goal-scorer (113) and point-getter (208) was inducted into the Northeastern Hall of Fame in 2005 and the Women's Beanpot Hall of Fame in 2010.

Witt has contributed to the U.S. Women's National Team program as a coach regularly over the last six years. She was an assistant for the U.S. Women's National Team at the 2007 (silver), 2011 (gold) and 2012 (silver) International Ice Hockey Federation Women's World Championships. She also helped Team USA capture the Four Nations Cup in 2011 and 2012, along with second-place finishes in 2010. Additionally, she spent time as an assistant coach for the U.S. Under-22 Select Team in 2010 and 2012.

BLADEMASTER
THE CHOICE OF PROFESSIONALS

If hockey was only a game of speed, a very long single contour would enhance speed. But then it would be called speed skating.

If hockey was only a game of turns and pivots, a very short single contour would enhance agility. But then it would be called figure skating.

Hockey Requires the best of both - and only Blademaster's Custom Radius Mark 6 System can achieve this!

Blades are manufactured with a single contour. They cannot possibly match the demands of today's game, individual preferences or produce performance advantages. Contouring the skate blade enables the player to better realize their full skating potential.

Talk to your local Blademaster Custom Radius specialist for more information on the revolutionary new Mark 6 system, or visit www.blademaster.com.

Site: Vierumaki, Finland | Date: August 24-31, 2011

Head Coach: Katey Stone | Assistant Coach: Mark Hudak

Team USA Record: 6-0-0-0

Team USA went 6-0-0-0 (W-OTW-OTL-L) in the first-ever IIHF Twelve Nations Invitational Series. The focus of the event was to develop players from countries that are candidates to take part in the 2014 Olympic Winter Games. The top eight teams (Pool A: USA, Canada, Finland, Sweden; Pool B: Russia, Switzerland, Slovakia, Japan) played in a round-robin tournament, while the four Pool C teams (Germany, Norway, Czech Republic, France) played a six-game round-robin tournament. The United States earned shutouts in five of six outings, outscoring its opponents, 48-1.

Head Coach: Mark Johnson | Assistant Coaches: Dave Flint and Jodi McKenna

Team USA Record: 4-0-0-1 | Team USA Finish: Silver Medal

The United States dominated throughout the preliminary round, outscoring opponents by a 31-1 margin in three games, including 12-0, 13-1 and 6-0 victories over China, Russia and Finland. Next up for Team USA was a match-up with Sweden in the semifinals. After being upset by the Swedes at the Olympics in 2006 in the same round, the Americans came out strong and retaliated with a 9-1 win for a trip to the gold-medal game against top-seeded Canada. In a hard-fought battle for gold in front of the largest crowd ever to witness a female hockey game, the only two goals were scored by Canada's Marie Philip Poulin, as Canada won by a 2-0 count.

Head Coach: Ben Smith | Assistant Coaches: Alana Blahoski and Mike Gilligan

Team USA Record: 4-0-1-0-0 | Team USA Finish: Bronze Medal

Team USA started the 2006 Olympic Winter Games strong, rolling through the preliminary round undefeated and outscoring opponents, 18-3, in the process. The first round included wins over Switzerland (6-0), Germany (5-0) and Finland (7-3), and sent the U.S. to the semifinals against Sweden. Against the Swedes, the Americans held a 39-18 advantage in shots and were up 2-0, but ended up falling 3-2, in a shootout. The U.S. loss was the first-ever against Sweden and set Team USA up for a bronze-medal match-up with Finland, where the Americans posted a 4-0 victory.

XIX OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES

Site: Salt Lake City, Utah | Date: February 12-21, 2002

Head Coach: Ben Smith | Assistant Coach: Julie Sasner

Team USA Record: 4-0-0-1-0 | Team USA Finish: Silver Medal

The Americans dominated their group in the preliminary round of the 2002 Olympic Winter Games, only allowing one goal in three victories, while scoring 27 of their own. The U.S. swept past Germany (10-0), China (12-1) and Finland (5-0) to secure a semifinal match-up with Sweden. There, Team USA extended its season-long win streak to 37 games with a 4-0 shutout of the Swedes to garner a spot in the gold-medal game and a chance to defend its Olympic championship. In a closely contested title game, however, Canada prevailed by a 3-2 count.

XVIII OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES

Site: Nagano, Japan | Date: February 8-17, 1998

Team USA Record: 6-0-0-0-0 | Team USA Finish: Gold Medal

At the first Olympic Winter Games ever to host women's ice hockey, the Americans came in favored to capture the silver medal behind Canada, which had earned gold in all four of the world championships to date. The format was such that the six teams would all play each other once to determine who earned a spot in the finale. The U.S. posted 5-0, 7-1 and 4-2 wins over China, Sweden and Finland, and then downed host Japan, 10-0, to cement its place in the gold-medal game prior to the last round-robin match-up with Canada. After the Canadians took a 4-1 lead in the preliminary-round match on Feb. 14, the Americans scored six unanswered goals in the final 11:53 of play for a 7-4 win. In the historic gold-medal rematch three days later, Team USA garnered a 3-1 win to cap off its inaugural Olympic performance with a perfect record.

ALL-TIME RECORD vs. CANADA

The United States and Canada are the only gold-medal winners in Olympic Winter Games and IIHF Women's World Championship history. Team USA won the inaugural Olympic gold medal in 1998, while Canada has taken the top prize in the three Games since (2002, 2006, 2010). The United States has captured gold at four of the 12 IIHF Women's World Championships, including three of the last four years (2008, 2009, 2011). The teams have also met frequently during the Four Nations Cup and pre-Olympic tours. Overall, the United States holds a record of 32-10-11-52-1 (W-OTW-OTL-L-T) in 106 contests against Canada.

Every day, millions of lives are shaped by a puck and a little open ice.

There's an insurance company that understands the value of those lessons.

Far from the rink and the scoreboard come the moments when youth sports matter. These opportunities help form bonds that enrich the game and enhance the lives and life skills of young players. That's why Liberty Mutual Insurance and our partners are proud to bring you the Responsible Sports™ program – offering educational resources, training tips and teaching tools for youth sports parents and coaches, plus coaching awards and valuable community grants.

Memorable youth sports moments are waiting for you.

HISTORY OF WOMEN'S HOCKEY

1889 - PRESENT

1889

Lord Stanley of Preston, Canada's sixth governor general and namesake of the Stanley Cup, supervises the flooding of a large lawn on the grounds of the Government House. Lord and Lady Stanley and their children, including two daughters, spend many hours on the rink playing hockey.

1890

Isobel Preston, daughter of Lord Preston, is photographed playing hockey at Rideau Hall. It is the earliest known image on film of women involved in a game of ice hockey.

1891

The first newspaper account of a game between two unnamed women's teams appears in the Ottawa Citizen on Feb. 11. The game, which was played in Ottawa, is now regarded as the true start of women's ice hockey.

1892

What was originally thought to be the first organized and recorded all-female ice hockey game is played in Barrie, Ontario. Research reveals a description of just one game in that community during that year and that the game actually featured women playing men dressed as women.

1920s

College teams form in both the U.S. and Canada.

1940s-50s

World War II slows the growth of the women's game as many women turn their attention to working and supporting their families. The growth of men's professional hockey and the increased demand for ice time also hurt the women's game.

1970s

Teams form in Sweden, Finland, Japan, China, Korea, Norway, Germany and Switzerland. Canadian provincial and college organizations begin operation. U.S. college varsity and club teams form in the Midwest and East, while participation by girls in youth hockey rises. Special chest pad and pelvic protector gear is designed for women.

Early 1980s

The Amateur Hockey Association of the United States (now known as USA Hockey) hosts the first National Championships for girls' (1980) and women's (1981) divisions.

1984

Providence College wins the inaugural Eastern College Athletic Conference Women's Championship.

1987

The first Women's World Invitational Tournament is held in North York and Mississauga, Ontario, with teams representing Canada, Ontario, the United States, Sweden, Switzerland, Holland and Japan. The United States defeats Sweden, 5-0, for the bronze medal. Groups lobby the International Ice Hockey Federation for the creation of a Women's World Championship.

1989

The IIHF president attends the European Women's Championship, and plans are drawn for future IIHF Women's World Championships.

1990

The first IIHF Women's World Championship is held in Ottawa. In the championship game, the United States takes an early 2-0 lead before Canada roars back for a 5-2 victory and the gold medal. Finland defeats Sweden, 6-3, for the bronze medal. Bodychecking is allowed but becomes illegal in future Women's World Championships.

The second IIHF Women's World Championship is held in Tampere, Finland. Canada defeats the United States, 8-0, to repeat as the gold medalist, and Finland once again captures the bronze medal.

On Nov. 17, the International Olympic Committee announces that it will include women's ice hockey as a full medal sport beginning in 2002. The IOC gives the organizers of the 1994 Games in Lillehammer, Norway, and the 1998 Games in Nagano, Japan, the option of including women's ice hockey on their programs. Norway declines, but Japan accepts to showcase the Olympic debut of women's ice hockey.

The third IIHF Women's World Championship is held in Lake Placid, N.Y. The finish is a familiar one as Canada emerges with a 6-3 victory against the United States for a third consecutive gold medal. Finland defeats China, 8-1, to finish third once again.

Minnesota becomes the first state in the United States to sanction girls' ice hockey as a high school varsity sport.

1995

The inaugural IIHF Pacific Women's Hockey Championship, featuring the United States, Canada, China and Japan, is held in San Jose, Calif. Canada edges the United States in an overtime shootout to earn the gold medal.

1996

Vancouver, British Columbia, serves as host for the 1996 IIHF Pacific Women's Hockey Championship, where Canada earns its second straight gold medal by defeating the United States.

On June 3, Ben Smith of Gloucester, Mass., is named the first-ever head coach of the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team.

The United States extends Canada to overtime before falling, 4-3, in the gold-medal game of the fourth IIHF Women's World Championship in Kitchener, Ontario. Finland adds a fourth bronze medal to its collection by defeating China, 3-0.

In December, the United States defeats Canada, 3-0, in the championship game of the 1997 Three Nations Cup in Lake Placid, N.Y. It marks the first time Canada has ever been held scoreless and is also Team USA's first championship in international competition.

Canada, the United States, Finland, China, Sweden and host nation Japan make up the field of six teams that compete at the XVIII Olympic Winter Games as women's ice hockey makes its debut in the Olympics. History is made on Feb. 17 when Team USA defeats Canada, 3-1, to earn the first Olympic gold medal ever awarded in women's ice hockey. Gretchen Ulion, Shelley Looney and Sandra Whyte score for the United States.

The first-ever Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, annually recognizing the nation's top player in NCAA Division I women's ice hockey, is handed out in Boston to University of New Hampshire forward Brandy Fisher.

The University of New Hampshire defeats Brown University, 4-1, at Boston's FleetCenter to capture the first American Women's College Hockey Alliance Division I National Championship.

In March, the 1999 U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 3-1, in the gold-medal game of the IIHF Women's World Championship for the fifth time.

A.J. Mieczko receives the 1999 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award. She enjoys the most prolific scoring season in the history of women's college hockey in 1998-99 with 114 points (37-77) in 34 games and, in the process, breaks Harvard University's all-time single-season and career scoring record for men or women. She also leads Harvard to the 1999 ACHA Division I National Championship.

Brown University goaltender Ali Brewer is named the 2000 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award recipient after posting a 1.33 goals-against average and a .942 save percentage. The Ivy League Co-Player of the Year finished her career as Brown's all-time leader in save percentage, saves, wins and shutouts. Brewer led Brown to the 2000 ACHA Division I National Championship game, but the Bears fell, 4-2, to the University of Minnesota, the first women's Western Collegiate Hockey Association team to earn a national title.

In April 2000, the U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 3-2, in overtime of the gold-medal game of the IIHF Women's World Championship. Canada captures its sixth-consecutive gold medal and the No. 1 seed in the XIX Olympic Winter Games, while the United States earns its sixth silver medal.

On August 23, Julie Sasner is named assistant coach for the United States Women's National and Olympic Teams, becoming the first-ever female member of an American Olympic ice hockey team coaching staff.

The 2000-01 U.S. Women's National Team defeats Canada, 3-2, at the Pepsi Center in Denver on Feb. 2 as part of the 2001 National Hockey League All-Star Weekend. The 9,562 spectators comprise the largest crowd ever to watch a women's hockey game in the United States.

After hosting the Women's Division I National Championship in 1998, 1999 and 2000, the ACHA and USA Hockey hand off to the NCAA, which holds the inaugural NCAA Women's Ice Hockey National Collegiate Championship, March 23-25 in Minneapolis, Minn.

In preparation for the XIX Olympic Winter Games, Team USA participates in the 31-game Visa Skate To Salt Lake Tour that crosses two continents (North America and Asia) and three countries (the United States, Canada and China). Team USA posts a 31-0-0 overall record on the tour, including a 23-0-0 mark against international opponents and an 8-0-0 record against college teams. Team USA outscored its opponents by a 252-27 margin. A major component of the tour is an eight-game series against Canada – the defending world champion and No. 1 seed in the Olympic women's ice hockey tournament. The United States posts an impressive 8-0-0 record in the series against Canada, outscoring the Canadians, 31-13.

The United States downs its first four opponents by a 31-1 margin at the XIX Olympic Winter Games in Salt Lake City, Utah, leading to the much-anticipated match-up against Canada in the gold-medal game. Canada captures its first Olympic gold medal with a 3-2 victory. The United States earns silver.

On March 22, Harvard forward Jennifer Botterill becomes the first two-time winner of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award. She also won the trophy for the top women's college ice hockey player in 2001. Teammate Angela Ruggiero and University of Minnesota Duluth forward Jenny Potter join Botterill as the 2003 finalists.

The IIHF Women's World Championship, to be held in Beijing, China, is cancelled due to SARS virus concerns.

In November, the U.S. Women's Select Team captures the gold medal at the 2003 Four Nations Cup for the first time since 1997. Goaltender Pam Dreyer does what no other U.S. women's goaltender had done before by defeating Canada twice in the same tournament. Dreyer turns in a .986 save percentage and a 0.48 GAA, allowing only one goal in 125 minutes of play. She also stops all 11 shots in the sudden-death shootout versus Canada in the gold-medal game. Cammi Granato notches the game-winner for the United States.

After being named a top-10 finalist for the fourth time in her career, Harvard senior Angela Ruggiero wins the 2004 Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 27.

On April 6, the U.S. Women's National Team falls to Canada, 2-0, in the gold-medal game at the 2004 IIHF Women's World Championship in Halifax, Nova Scotia. The U.S. team takes its eighth-straight silver medal at the event.

With a comeback victory in Burlington, Vt., on August 28, the U.S. Under-22 Select Team defeats the Canadian Under-22 Team, 3-2. The win gives the United States its first-ever sweep in the annual three-game series between the teams.

The U.S. Women's Select Team defeats Sweden and Finland and ties Canada to advance to the gold-medal game at the 2004 Women's Four Nations Cup in Lake Placid, N.Y. On Nov. 14, Canada wins the gold-medal game, 2-1.

Angela Ruggiero and her brother, Bill, make history competing for the Central Hockey League's Tulsa Oilers in a game on January 28. The pair becomes the first-ever brother-sister tandem to play together in a professional hockey game in North America. Angela also becomes the first female position player to score a point (assist) in a CHL game.

After 60 minutes and a 20-minute overtime period, Team USA and Canada go to a shootout in the IIHF Women's World Championship gold-medal game on April 9. Team USA scores three shootout goals to Canada's one and the 2005 U.S. Women's National Team claims its first-ever World Championship gold medal in Linköping, Sweden.

Team USA opens the Hilton Family Skate to 2006 Tour before 5,739 fans at St. Paul's Xcel Energy Center on Sept. 30. The Tour is a 10-city, 11-game pre-Olympic training schedule featuring the U.S. Women's National Team in competition against Finland, Canada and top collegiate all-star teams. By Tour's end, Team USA earns a 9-2-0 record after playing in front of 30,799 total fans across the nation.

In a vote by her teammates, forward Krissy Wendell is named captain of the U.S. Women's National and Olympic Teams. Wendell led the 2005-06 National Team with 23 points and 17 assists in 22 games.

After going 3-0-0 in the preliminary round with an 18-3 goal differential, the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team is upset by Sweden in a shootout in the semifinal round at the XX Olympic Winter Games in Torino, Italy. It sends the United States to the bronze-medal game for the first time ever, where Team USA shuts out Finland, 4-0.

Sara Bauer wins the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 25, then leads her University of Wisconsin team to its first-ever NCAA national championship the next day.

USA Hockey hires Michele Amidon to be its first-ever director of women's hockey operations. She previously served as head women's hockey coach at Bowdoin College and was a member of the U.S. Women's National Team in 1992.

Julie Chu makes history when she becomes the 10th winner of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 17.

The U.S. Women's National Team plays in front of the two largest crowds ever to watch a women's hockey game when it takes on Canada twice during the 2007 IIHF Women's World Championship in Winnipeg, Man. The building is sold-out for both games with crowds of 15,003. Canada takes the gold medal with a 5-1 victory over the United States.

For the first time ever, the IIHF stages a Under-18 Women's World Championship. It takes place in Calgary, Alta., at the home of Hockey Canada. Team USA goes undefeated in the preliminary round, tops the Czechs, 8-0, in the semifinals and earns a 5-2 victory over host Canada to capture the first gold medal at the women's Under-18 level.

Sarah Vaillancourt wins the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 21, becoming the fifth winner from Harvard University.

The U.S. Women's National Team makes history by beating Canada in back-to-back games at the 2008 IIHF Women's World Championship in Harbin, China, to capture its second-ever world title (and second in the last three world championships). Finland also makes history by posting its first-ever victory over Team USA (1-0 in overtime).

Later in the year, Team USA captures its first Four Nations Cup since 2003. It marks the first time since the 1997-98 season that the U.S. topped Canada in back-to-back international events. During the tournament in Lake Placid, N.Y., the Canadians suffer their first loss to any team other than the United States when Sweden earns a 2-1 overtime victory over Canada.

At the second staging of the IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship, the United States again goes undefeated to defend its world title. Team USA rolls through the preliminary and playoff rounds, outscoring opponents 55-2, then beats Canada, 3-2, in overtime for the championship.

Jessie Vetter of Cottage Grove, Wis., wins the 12th Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award.

The U.S. Women's National Team again makes history by successfully defending its world title for the first time ever at the 2009 IIHF Women's World Championship in Hameenlinna, Finland. It gave the U.S. the No. 1 ranking in the world for the first time since the system was introduced in 2004.

The 2009-10 U.S. Women's National Team begins centralization in Blaine, Minn., in September. The squad competes in the Qwest Tour, a 10-game, nine-city domestic tour. On the Tour, Team USA faces off against Canada; Finland; all-star teams from the Western Collegiate Hockey Association, Hockey East and ECAC Hockey; and various other NCAA Division I women's ice hockey teams.

The United States outscores opponents by a 31-1 margin in three preliminary-round games to start the 2010 Olympic Winter Games in Vancouver, B.C. Next, the Americans pick up a 9-1 win for a trip to the gold-medal game against top-seeded Canada. In front of the largest crowd ever to witness a female hockey game (16,805), the only two goals were scored by Canadian teenage phenom Marie Philip Poulin, as Canada wins by a 2-0 count.

Vicki Bendus becomes the first recipient of the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award from Mercyhurst College.

The U.S. hosts its first-ever IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship in the Chicago suburb of Woodridge, Ill. Canada earns its first gold medal in the event, upstaging Team USA in overtime, 5-4.

2011

The U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team captures its third world title in four years at the IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship with a 5-2 win over Canada in Stockholm, Sweden.

Meghan Duggan wins the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 19, becoming the third winner from the University of Wisconsin.

The U.S. Women's National Team wins its third straight world title with a 3-2 overtime victory against Canada at the 2011 IIHF Women's World Championship in Zurich, Switzerland.

The United States outscores opponents by a 48-1 margin in six games during the inaugural IIHF Twelve Nations Invitational Tournament Series in Vierumaki, Finland.

In the fifth year of the IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship, the United States goes undefeated in the preliminary round, outscoring opponents, 28-1. The U.S. then defeats Germany, 7-1, in the semifinals before falling to Canada, 3-0, in the gold medal game.

Brianna Decker of Dousman, Wis., wins the 15th Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 17, 2012.

The United States outscores its opponents 39-2 on the way to the gold-medal game at the 2012 IIHF Women's World Championships in Burlington, Vt., where it falls to Canada, 5-4, in overtime.

At the 2012 Four Nations Tournament, the U.S. National Women's Team shut out Sweden, 4-0 to open the tournament. After falling to Canada 3-1, the U.S. bounced back with a 15-1 victory over Finland to secure a rematch against Canada in the championship game for the 15th time in the 17-year history of the tournament. In the championship game, the U.S. shut out rival Canada 3-0 to capture the Four Nations Cup for the second year in a row.

The U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team went undefeated in the preliminary round of the IIHF Under-18 Women's World Championship, outscoring opponents 25-0. The United States then shut out Czech Republic 10-0 in the semifinal game before falling to Canada 2-1 in overtime in the gold-medal game.

University of Minnesota forward Amanda Kessel of Madison, Wis. wins the 16th Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award on March 23, 2013. It marked the first time that the top three finalists – defenseman Megan Bozek, Kessel and goaltender Noora Rätty – all represented the same university.

THIS IS USA HOCKEY

Leadership: Ron DeGregorio, President | Dave Ogreaen, Executive Director

National Headquarters: Colorado Springs, Colo.

Website: usahockey.com

Membership: Nearly 600,000 players, coaches, officials and fans of the game

USA Hockey provides the foundation for the sport of ice hockey in America; helps young people become leaders, even Olympic heroes; and connects the game at every level while promoting a lifelong love of the sport.

USA Hockey's primary emphasis is on the support and development of grassroots hockey programs. In January 2009, the organization launched the American Development Model, which - for the first time ever - provides associations nationwide with a blueprint for optimal athlete development. Always a leader in safety, USA Hockey furthered the enhancement of those efforts by advancing the USA Hockey SafeSport Program in June 2012.

While youth hockey is a main focus, USA Hockey also has vibrant junior and adult hockey programs that provide opportunities for players of all ability levels. The organization also supports a growing disabled hockey program.

Beyond serving those who play the game at the amateur level, USA Hockey has certification programs for coaches and officials to ensure education standards are met that coincide with the level of play. In September 2011, USA Hockey became the first youth sports organization in the U.S. to offer its coaches online, age-specific coaching education modules. Furthermore, a large focus is put on parent education with equipment needs, rules of the game and parental roles in youth sports among common topics.

Members of the organization are entitled to many benefits, including a subscription to USA Hockey Magazine, the most widely circulated hockey publication in the world; excess accident, general liability and catastrophic insurance coverage; access to USAHockey.com; and opportunities to participate in USA Hockey National Championships, as well as player development camps.

As the National Governing Body for the sport of ice hockey in the United States, USA Hockey is the official representative to the United States Olympic Committee and the International Ice Hockey Federation. In this role, USA Hockey is responsible for organizing and training men's and women's teams for international tournaments, including the IIHF World Championships and the Olympic and Paralympic Winter Games. Closer to home, USA Hockey works closely with the National Hockey League and the National Collegiate Athletic Association on matters of mutual interest.

USA Hockey is divided into 12 geographical districts throughout the United States. Each district has a registrar to register teams; a referee-in-chief to register officials and organize clinics; a coach-in-chief to administer education programs for coaches; a risk manager to oversee liability and safety programs; and a skill development program administrator to facilitate learn-to-play programs for youth players and their parents.

RON DeGREGORIO

PRESIDENT

Ron DeGregorio's leadership is a major reason why USA Hockey has evolved into arguably the leading hockey federation in the world today.

From championing the USA Hockey SafeSport Program in 2012 to helping fuel national support for passage of the organization's Progressive Checking Skill Development Program in 2011, DeGregorio's commitment to advancing the sport is on-going.

His ingenuity is evident throughout the organization, but perhaps nothing as visible as USA Hockey's National Team Development Program. A lightning rod for criticism in the U.S. when it was established in 1996, the NTDP has evolved into a revered program and has significantly influenced U.S. success in international competition.

DeGregorio, who continues to play hockey today, was elected president of USA Hockey on June 14, 2003, and unanimously re-elected to his fourth term on June 10, 2012.

His first appointment with USA Hockey came in 1973 when he was named registrar for the New England District. As registrar, DeGregorio oversaw the reorganization of the district into several smaller, more manageable affiliates. He was also the first registrar to appoint associate registrars, which helped increase USA Hockey's efficiency and visibility at the local level.

DeGregorio was first elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1975 and was the organization's first vice president of youth hockey. In the 1980s, he served as treasurer of USA Hockey. In 1995, he was elected as a vice president and the international council chairperson, positions he held until being named president.

He has represented the USA at countless events during his tenure with USA Hockey. His first official role came as team leader of Team East at the 1979 United States Olympic Festival, from which the 1980 "Miracle On Ice" U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team was chosen.

DeGregorio also served as team leader for the 1994 U.S. Olympic Ice Hockey Team that competed in Lillehammer, Norway. DeGregorio has represented the USA at the 1998, 2002, 2006 and 2010 Olympic Winter Games and at numerous International Ice Hockey Federation World Junior Championships, IIHF Men's World Championships and IIHF Women's World Championships. He has also been a member of the United States delegation at IIHF meetings and conferences as international council chairperson.

The former Middlebury (Vt.) College goaltender is known throughout Massachusetts as the originator of the "Mini One-on-One," a youth hockey competition that is broadcast through the Boston Bruins' television network. DeGregorio was distinguished with the National Hockey League's Lester Patrick Trophy in 2002 in recognition of his outstanding service to ice hockey in the United States.

DeGregorio served on the Board of Directors of the United States Olympic Committee's Pan-American and Olympic Captive Insurance Program and was also involved in professional hockey as one of three principal owners of the former American Hockey League Kentucky Thoroughblades.

DeGregorio is president of the PenFacs Group, an investment and insurance firm specializing in the design, administration and funding of executive benefit plans. He has four grown children and three grandchildren and resides in Salem, N.H., with his wife Susan.

DAVE OGRAN*EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

It would be hard to find a more accomplished executive in the Olympic family than Dave Ogrian.

A Connecticut native, Ogrian returned to USA Hockey as executive director on Aug. 1, 2005, after previously holding the same position from 1993-99. Ogrian began his career in the sports industry with the organization (then the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States) as its director of public relations in 1978.

Under his leadership since 2005, USA Hockey created a new department for membership development that has helped in the resurgence of growth in youth hockey in the U.S., including attracting more than 100,000 players in the eight-and-under age category for the first time in the organization's history in 2010-11; gained rights to host IIHF World Championships at all levels; began an annual nationwide celebration called Hockey Weekend Across America; focused efforts on raising the profile of the USA Hockey Foundation; led efforts that resulted in USA Hockey taking responsibility for the selection process and induction event associated with the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame; and guided the development of the USA Hockey SafeSport Program to continue and enhance the organization's leadership role among amateur sports entities in providing as safe environment for all involved in the game.

Among his many accomplishments during his first term as executive director, Ogrian oversaw a significant increase in membership and revenue, and the construction of the current national headquarters; helped launch the National Team Development Program; was a driving force in establishing the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, presented annually to the top player in women's college ice hockey; and developed the concept of STAR (Serving the American Rinks) with U.S. Figure Skating.

Before returning to Colorado Springs, Ogrian served as executive director of USA Football from 2002-05. He was recruited by the National Football League and NFL Players' Association to build a new, independent, non-profit organization to support and promote the sport of amateur football at all levels.

Prior to joining USA Football, Ogrian served as president and CEO of the Colorado Springs Sports Corporation where he led the development and creation of the Colorado Springs Sports Hall of Fame and the Rocky Mountain State Games.

From 1999-2000, Ogrian worked for the United States Olympic Committee as deputy executive director of marketing. While there, he led the USOC team that, together with the Salt Lake Organizing Committee, generated almost $200 million.

Previously, Ogrian served the USOC from 1990-93 as director of broadcasting. He was responsible for creating the initial broadcast division and generated over $12 million in revenue as well as unprecedented exposure for the national governing bodies of Olympic sports.

From 1980-88, Ogrian worked at ESPN in corporate communications and programming, before joining the College Football Association as assistant executive director for television.

Ogrian received his Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Connecticut (1974) and his master's degree in film from Boston University (1978).

Listed among The Sporting News' Top 100 Most Powerful People in Sports from 1993-99, Ogrian is currently among The Hockey News' Top 50 People of Power and Influence. He is a member of the U.S. Olympic Committee Board of Directors, El Pomar Foundation Pikes Peak Regional Council, the nominating committee for the U.S. Olympic Hall of Fame, the board of directors for the Colorado Springs World Arena, and served on the United States Olympic Committee CEO Search Committee in 2009.

Dave and his wife Maryellen have three grown children: son Matt, and daughters Tracy and Dana.

TONY ROSSI*VICE PRESIDENT, INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL CHAIR

Outside of a highly successful business career, Tony Rossi has generously donated significant time, resources and expertise to USA Hockey for more than 30 years at the grassroots and executive leadership levels.

After beginning his volunteer career with the National Governing Body in the mid-1970s, Rossi was elected to the USA Hockey Board of Directors in 1983 and served as a director from the Central District until 1988. In 1989, he was elected to the USA Hockey Executive Committee, serving as secretary from 1989-95. In 1995, Rossi transitioned to the role of USA Hockey treasurer, a position he held until June 2003.

In his role as both secretary and treasurer, Rossi helped guide the formation and growth of The USA Hockey Foundation, a charitable and educational non-profit corporation that provides long-range financial support for USA Hockey and promotes the growth of hockey in the United States.

In June of 2003, Rossi was elected to his current post as USA Hockey vice president and international council chair. In his role, Rossi works closely with the organization's National and Olympic Team programs, as well as the International Ice Hockey Federation during a host of global competitions held throughout the year. He was elected to the IIHF Council in May of 2008 and re-elected in 2012.

Rossi also serves as president for RMK Management Corporation and Moran & Company.

He resides in Chicago with his wife, Marie, and has four children, Elena, Deanna, Michael, and Tony, Jr.

WALTER L. BUSH, JR.*CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

One of the most recognized and respected leaders in hockey, Walter L. Bush, Jr., is the chairman of the board for USA Hockey, a position he has held since June 2003.

Bush has served as a member of the organization's Board of Directors since 1959 and became president of USA Hockey in June 1986, following Wm. Thayer Tutt and Tom Lockhart. He served in the capacity for 17 years before taking his current position as chairman of the board. In recognition of his 45th year of service to USA Hockey, the organization dedicated its national headquarters as The Walter L. Bush, Jr. Center in June of 1999.

Bush retired as a member of the International Ice Hockey Federation Council in May 2008 after a 23-year stint, the last 14 years as a vice president of the organization. Bush served on numerous committees within the IIHF, including as chair of the IIHF Women's Ice Hockey Committee, the IIHF Inline Hockey Committee and the Selection Committee for the IIHF Hall of Fame from its inception. As chairman of the IIHF Women's Ice Hockey Committee, Bush was instrumental in organizing the first IIHF Women's World Championship. He also led the successful charge that made women's ice hockey a medal sport in the Olympic Winter Games beginning in 1998 in Nagano, Japan. Bush has been involved in hockey as a player, coach, manager, administrator and team owner. His hockey background includes having played at the high school, college and senior levels. His senior team won three Minnesota state championships and, from there, Bush became involved in team management. He managed the 1959 U.S. National Team at the IIHF World Championship, and, in 1964, he served as general manager of the 1964 Olympic Men's Ice Hockey Team.

Bush was named special assistant to U.S. Olympic Committee President Bill Hybl for the U.S. Delegation at the 1998 Olympic Winter Games in Nagano, Japan.

Bush was president of the Minnesota Amateur Hockey Association for three years and was owner and president of the minor league Minneapolis Bruins from 1963-65.

He later led a group of businessmen in securing a National Hockey League franchise - the Minnesota North Stars - for the Twin Cities area. He served as the North Stars' first president from 1967-76 and later became chairman of the board. Bush spent 17 years in the NHL working with a variety of committees. Afterward, he was active in professional hockey as a principal owner of the American Hockey League Kentucky Thoroughblades.

Bush received the Olympic Order from the International Olympic Committee, the highest honor in the Olympic movement.

Bush was elected to the IIHF Hall of Fame in 2009 and the Hockey Hall of Fame in 2000. He received the NHL's Lester Patrick Award in 1973 in recognition of his outstanding service to ice hockey in the United States. He was enshrined in the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in 1980 and, in 1989, was elected to the Minnesota Sports Hall of Fame. He currently serves as a governor for the Hockey Hall of Fame in Toronto.

Bush, who was honored with the U.S. Olympic Foundation's inaugural George M. Steinbrenner III Sport Leadership Award in 2006, resides in Naples, Fla., with his wife, Sis. He has a daughter, Anne Hanson, and two sons, Walter III and Steven.

USA HOCKEY'S AMERICAN DEVELOPMENT MODEL

As hockey has grown dramatically in the United States over the last three decades, structure and training methods have simply evolved without a scientifically-based plan to help players reach their full potential. How players are trained varies widely across the country and, in some cases, counterproductive elements have crept into those methods.

In an effort to create a unified program for developing hockey players at all ages and levels, USA Hockey, with support from the National Hockey League, created the American Development Model. The ADM is a nationwide initiative that provides local associations across the country – for the first time ever – a blueprint for optimal athlete development that focuses on age-appropriate training.

Utilizing long-term athlete development principles, the American Development Model looks to bolster the quantity and quality of American players. The ADM focuses on developing skills based upon physical and psychological growth, not chronological age.

The American Development Model integrates training, competition and recovery with relation to biological development and maturation, while offering equal opportunity for recreation and competition.

Launched in January 2009, the American Development Model has had an enormously positive impact on youth hockey in the United States in a short period of time.

THIS IS USA HOCKEY'S NATIONAL TEAM DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Founded: 1996

Location: Ann Arbor, Mich.

Website: usahockey.com/usantdp

NHL Draft Impact: 211 players drafted including 45 first-round picks; Three players were selected first overall: Patrick Kane (Chicago, 2007), Erik Johnson (St. Louis, 2006) and Rick DiPietro (NY Islanders, 2000)

In 1996, USA Hockey launched a revolutionary new initiative called the National Team Development Program, based in Ann Arbor, Mich. In its 16th season of play in 2012-13, the goal of this full-time development program is to prepare student-athletes under the age of 18 for participation on U.S. National Teams and success in their future hockey careers. Its efforts focus not only on high-caliber participation on the ice, but creating well-rounded individuals off the ice.

The program is composed of two squads - the U.S. National Under-18 and Under-17 Teams. The Under-17 Team competes in the United States Hockey League and also participates in three international events annually. The U.S. National Under-18 Team's schedule includes games against NCAA Division I and III opponents, contests vs. USHL teams, as well as competition in three international tournaments.

The Ann Arbor Ice Cube, a first-class facility consisting of three ice sheets, locker rooms, offices, a training area and weight room is home to the NTDP. Unlike other competitive athletic teams, the success of the NTDP is not gauged on wins and losses. Instead, the focus is on the development of skills and acquiring experience against older competitors.

"Playing for your country is one of the greatest things any athlete can do," said National Hockey League superstar Ryan Kesler. "The NTDP's on- and off-ice programs built the foundation I needed to become the player I am today."

WHAT THE PROGRAM HAS MEANT

In evaluating how the NTDP has impacted hockey in the United States, consider:

- The U.S. has won the gold medal seven times at the IIHF Men's World Under-18 Championship (2002, 2005-06, 2009-12), with each team comprised primarily of NTDP players.
- The U.S., with a team comprised largely of NTDP players, captured its first-ever gold medal at the IIHF World Junior Championship in 2004. In 2010, Team USA earned its second gold medal and followed that success with a bronze-medal finish in 2011, the first time in tournament history that the U.S. won consecutive medals.
- In 2011-12, more than 60 NTDP alumni played at least one game in the NHL.

THE USA HOCKEY FOUNDATION'S PATTY KAZMAIER MEMORIAL AWARD

An award of the USA Hockey Foundation, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award has been presented annually to the top player in NCAA Division I women's ice hockey since 1998, with selection criteria including individual and team skills, sportsmanship, performance in the clutch, personal character, competitiveness and a love for the sport.

The award is named in honor of the late Patty Kazmaier, a women's hockey star and gifted scholar-athlete who attended Princeton University in the early 1980s.

A four-year varsity ice hockey letter-winner, Kazmaier anchored the Princeton defense and led the Tigers to the Ivy League Championship in three consecutive seasons (1982-84). She earned All-Ivy League Honorable Mention honors as a freshman and was named to the All-Ivy League Second Team in both her sophomore and junior seasons. After a one-year hiatus, Kazmaier returned to the Tigers and was named to the All-Ivy League First Team and the All-Eastern College Athletic Conference First Team as a senior in 1985-86. She was also honored as the Ivy League Most Valuable Player.

Kazmaier battled a rare blood disease for more than a year before passing away in 1990 at the age of 28.

Presented at an award ceremony in conjunction with the NCAA Women's Frozen Four in March, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award has been bestowed upon 16 exceptional athletes since its inception in 1998. Of those women, Angela Ruggiero (2004), Julie Chu (2007), Jessie Vetter (2009) and Meghan Duggan (2011) all competed on the U.S. Olympic Women's Ice Hockey Team that captured the silver medal at the 2010 Olympic Winter Games in Vancouver, B.C.

Other previous Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award recipients include two-time U.S. Olympians Krissy Wendell (2005) and A.J. Mleczko (1999).

The 2013 Patty Kazmaier Award was presented in Minneapolis, Minn., on March 23 to the University of Minnesota's Amanda Kessel, a member of the U.S. Women's National Team.

U.S. HOCKEY HALL OF FAME

The U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame was established in 1973 to preserve the rich history of the game in the United States, while recognizing the extraordinary contributions of select players, coaches, administrators, officials and teams.

In 2007, USA Hockey assumed the responsibility for the selection process and induction event associated with the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame. The induction event generally takes place each fall and is hosted in major cities across the United States.

There are currently 152 enshrined members in the Hall. New members are inducted annually and must have made exceptional contributions to hockey in the United States during the course of their career.

The United States Hockey Hall of Fame Museum is dedicated to honoring these legends of the game and showcasing U.S. hockey memories. Opened in 1973 in Eveleth, Minnesota, the unique facility is driven by the mission to preserve and interpret America's proud hockey heritage.

THE USA HOCKEY FOUNDATION

The USA Hockey Foundation plays a vital role in advancing the sport of hockey in the United States by providing long-range financial support for USA Hockey's programs and initiatives. These diverse groups include participation, player development, opportunity, education, safety and commemoration.

USA Hockey's grassroots programs are aimed at increasing participation, improving skills and creating a responsible environment for the conduct of youth hockey. Through initiatives like the American Development Model, Affiliate Block Grant Program and OneGoal, USA Hockey looks to making the game more affordable, getting more kids of both genders to try the sport and convincing current athletes to continue playing into the future.

Elite player development has become paramount for USA Hockey's success as men's and women's teams are selected and trained to represent the United States at the Olympic, World, Junior and Under-18 levels of international competition. In 2009, USA Hockey enjoyed unparalleled success, with the U.S. Women's National Team, U.S. Women's National Under-18 Team, U.S. Men's National Under-18 Team and U.S. National Sled Hockey Team all winning gold medals at world championships. Success followed USA Hockey into 2010 with the U.S. National Junior Team winning gold at the 2010 IIHF World Junior Championship, the Men's and Women's Olympic Teams earning silver medals at the 2010 Olympic Winter Games, the U.S. Paralympic Sled Hockey Team capturing gold at the 2010 Paralympic Winter Games and the U.S. Men's National Under-18 Team defending its world title at the 2010 IIHF World Men's Under-18 Championship. In 2011, the U.S. Women's National Team captured its third gold medal in four years at the IIHF Women's World Championship and both the U.S. Men's and Women's National Under-18 teams won gold medals at their respective IIHF World Championships.

Through the U.S. Women's National Program's residency training program in Blaine, Minn., and the National Team Development Program in Ann Arbor, Mich., USA Hockey is selecting and training the United States' best players and preparing them for world success.

In addition, The USA Hockey Foundation supports all four disciplines of disabled hockey, including standing amputee hockey, sled hockey, deaf and hard of hearing hockey, and special hockey. With programs like Ice Hockey in Harlem, the Fort Dupont Cannons hockey program in Washington, D.C., and USA Warriors Ice Hockey, USA Hockey and The USA Hockey Foundation are committed to giving everyone an opportunity to play hockey, regardless of physical or financial limitations.

USA Hockey also provides education for coaches, officials, parents and athletes. Structured national education programs for coaches and officials insure excellence and consistency throughout amateur hockey for these important positions. These programs are provided locally across the country as well as online through a virtual resource center. In addition, the Coaching Education Program is currently redesigning its coaching materials to include the long-term athlete development principles that are the cornerstone of the American Development Model.

Furthermore, The USA Hockey Foundation supports safety and protective equipment research and education to make the game as safe as possible for all participants. Specific initiatives include the "Heads Up, Don't Duck" education program, concussion prevention education, CPR training at summer camps, studies of neck laceration injuries and guards, and the installation of defibrillators (AEDs) in rinks across the country.

The USA Hockey Foundation is also involved with several commemorative programs, including the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame, the Patty Kazmaier Memorial Award, the Lester Patrick Award, the Dave Peterson Memorial Fund and Coaches Symposium, the Brian Fishman Internship and Memorial Fund and the Brendan Burke Internship and Memorial Fund. These programs honor the best and the brightest in the hockey community.
