U16 Prospects Team - Central States Developmental Hockey League added a "Prospects Division" for the upcoming season and Affton will roster a team at the Midget Minor U16 level, which will consist of 2005 & 2006 birth year players. TRYOUTS for this team will be intertwined with the U15 & U16 CSDHL tryouts. Bubble players for both CSDHL teams will be offered spots on the Prospects Team.

"We have been exploring the possibility of adding a Prospects Division for the past several years and we feel CSDHL is ready to move forward with this opportunity to give more young hockey players in the Midwest, as well as clubs throughout the United States, the chance to play and develop at the elite Tier II level that Central States offers," says Jim Wright, CSDHL President.

Teams will play a full league schedule against other teams in the Prospects Division and playoffs will be held at the end of the season.

"This new, combined division allows for clubs to participate in the CSDHL league even if they do not have teams in the major or minor levels, giving more players the opportunity to advance their development by playing a higher level of hockey," says Michele Voris, President of Northwest Chargers Hockey. Central States Developmental Hockey (CSDHL) is the top Tier II hockey league in the nation and is comprised of teams from throughout the Midwest. Since its establishment in 1999, hundreds of players from CSDHL teams have advanced to play collegiate and junior hockey. Notable alumni include current and former NHL players Brandon Bollig, Phil Kessel, Pat Maroon, Ryan Suter and Joe Vitale.

Central States is a proud member of the North American Prospects Hockey League (www.naphl.org). For more information about CSDHL, visit www.csdhl.org.
